Fallen Warrior Ceremony

“Ladies and Gentlemen, as we enjoy this evening of fellowship, we are reminded that not everyone is so privileged. At our head table this evening, we have an empty chair. This chair is empty by design. We placed it there for distinguished guests who cannot be with us today. This place is reserved to honor our fallen warriors.

Today’s military member is well equipped and skilled in military combat and warfare for peaceful purposes and preserves the rights of men and women everywhere to be free of tyranny and terrorism. They are dedicated to the cause of peaceful coexistence on a global level. They go on duty each day knowing it might be the day they are asked to make the ultimate sacrifice. They are not the “summer soldier or sunshine patriot”.

Our military service men and women are adept in many disciplines and each warrior has unique skills they contribute, not only to their military service, but also to their personal lives and their communities. Society recognizes our American military servicemen and women as an elite group.

As we reflect upon this empty chair, we come face to face with the stark reality that some of our warriors and personal heroes have indeed been called upon to make that ultimate sacrifice. They are our brothers and sisters, our friends; and, our comrades-in-arms. Their absence is symbolized by this simple empty chair. Their sacrifice was not simple, nevertheless, as warriors, they would not want great ceremony or fanfare made of their heroic action.

Their death leaves a wake of sorrow for us, their friends and families. But, it also leaves a legacy of pride in the time honored tradition of selflessness and dedicated service to country. A grateful nation mourns its loss. And, today we honor them. They are national treasures and inspire people everywhere seeking freedom from oppression and the right to live with dignity.

So with this empty chair and with a moment of silence, we few, we band of brothers and sisters remember our fallen. In our hearts, we wish them peace and eternal rest from their toil. We will not forget them. And, we continue to honor them for their selfless sacrifice on behalf of the United States of America.”

A Warrior’s Prayer

Brave warrior’s,
should fate find us in battle,
May our cause be just.
May our leaders have clear vision.
May our courage not falter.
May we be triumphant and earn victory
as we show mercy to our enemies.
May our efforts bring lasting peace.
May our sacrifice be always appreciated by those we serve.
May we return to our loved ones unharmed.
Should we be harmed, may our wounds heal.
Should we perish in the struggle,
may God embrace us and find for us
a place in His Kingdom.
